Transportation Solution

- $350,000 has been budget this year for road maintenance – This covers minor repairs only - No monies have been budgeted for capital road improvements
- The Mayor and City Council are proposing a monthly road fee of $15.42 per equivalent residential dwelling unit (ERU)
  - Residential: one ERU is one home
  - Non-residential: one ERU is 10,000 sqft of floor area
- This fee will generate ±$750,000 per year - $550,000 will be used for capital road improvements and $200,000 will be used for road maintenance
- These monies will only be used for capital road improvements and road maintenance – They cannot be used for other uses
- The top capital projects are the reconstruction of 6000 West, 10400 North, and 9600 North
- Road maintenance priorities change yearly based on weather, traffic volume, etc. Examples of potential projects may include: 6800 West, Stevens Lane, and Bull River Road
